2006 Conference Fellowships

The Photochemistry Section of the Swiss Chemical Society invites applications for fellowships to assist graduate students and postdocs who work at Swiss research institutions in the fields of photochemistry, photobiology, or photophysics and who want to present their work at international conferences or other scientific events in the course of the year 2006. A contribution of the applicant's home organization and/or the applicant him or herself is expected.

This year, applications to visit the “Central European Conference on Photochemistry” (CECP, March 5-9 in Bad Hofgastein), which is co-organized by the Photochemistry Section of the Swiss Chemical Society, will be given priority. Valid applications, accompanied by an abstract of the work to be presented will be honored by a stipend of SFr 300 (ca. half of the total cost of the meeting, including travel by train) which will be paid after the return from the conference. Applications for CECP stipends should be sent by e-mail attachment to Thomas.Bally@unifr.ch by February 24 at the latest.

If funds remain after the above meeting, applications for fellowships to other conferences will be taken into consideration. These should include a cover letter stating name, location, time and purpose of the conference (1 page), an estimated budget (1 page), and an abstract of the work to be presented (1-2 pages). Applications are accepted until June 31, 2006 and should be sent as e-mail attachments to Prof Bally at the above address.
